

Paulino

PD-14909~PD-14913

Our Paulino fixtures are a little like a residential kitchen fixture, only twice the size. These are heavy, hand blown glass tears that need larger spaces to look right. And no two of them are alike. We have a glass blower friend who makes these lenses to order and will not use a cast iron mold. All the Paulino glass is shaped in fire with multiple breaths and continuous pipe spinning and annealing. Just the way they would have been made in the middle ages. The major components of Paulino glass are sand and skill. Environmentally friendly lights that will last for years of looking good.
